

GUI Vs CLI

GUI (Graphics User Interface) is everything visually that you can see on a computer. Whereas CLI (Command Line Interface) is a text based interface that does not have the graphical capabilities that GUI has at its disposal. CLI can be highly efficient and is not as resource intensive as GUI but it has a steep learning curve compared to GUI which is extremely intuitive due to its visual nature which CLI lacks.